

Dear Alumni, Faculty, Staff and Friends:

One of the cornerstones of the Ragin' Cajun athletic program is the loyalty and enthusiasm of Cajun fans who demonstrate interest in our teams by attending our events. Ragin' Cajun athletics appreciates this marvelous fan support, which stimulates and encourages our student-athletes and energizes our department.

We must, however, be cautious not to let enthusiasm for our programs lead us into conflict with the rules and regulations of the NCAA or the Sun Belt Conference.

The NCAA definition of "a representative of athletics interests" is broad and encompasses many of the people who are regular attendees at our sporting events. If you fall into this category, there are a number of activities regarding contact with student-athletes and athletic recruits that could put the University of Louisiana, Lafayette at risk for NCAA sanctions.

We have summarized the applicable NCAA rules in this pamphlet. Please take time to read it carefully. Should you have any questions, please call our Assistant Athletic Director of Compliance at 337-482-5195.

The University of Louisiana, Lafayette is grateful for all you do and know all of you would like nothing more than to build the Ragin' Cajuns into one of the model programs in the nation. We know, based on our contacts with alumni, faculty, staff and friends, that you share our ambition for athletic success with integrity.

Sincerely,
Kristi Stake
Assistant Athletic Director of Compliance
University of Louisiana, Lafayette

Any individual who has engaged in conduct that is determined, either by the University, or the NCAA, to be a violation of any NCAA legislation, regardless of whether such violation results in the imposition of sanctions, shall be subject to the revocation or withholding of any athletically related benefit or privilege, received by that individual from the University. Such benefit or privilege may include, without limitation, ticket privileges which may be withheld by the University for that period of time which the University, or NCAA deems appropriate.
